

Are you 60 years or older and experiencing symptoms of OCD?

The Centre for Emotional Health is conducting research on late-life OCD to understand the experiences of older adults with OCD and its impacts on their family and friends. The research will contribute to the development of better treatment of OCD in older adults.

WHAT WILL IT INVOLVE?

Participation would require approximately 2.5 hours of your time and involves completing some questionnaires and an interview over phone or videoconference. You will be paid $40 AUD for your participation.

Loved ones of older adults with OCD are also eligible to participate.

CONTACT US:

If you are interested in participating or would like more information, please contact us at +61 (2) 9850 8596 or at ceinwyn.attrill@mq.edu.au