

Are you aged 16-22 and diagnosed with OCD?

If you're a young person with an OCD diagnosis, we're interested in listening to your experiences of any very early signs and symptoms (4-10 years) which you showed.

Whatever your experiences, we would like to understand what you went through and how it affected your family.

Taking part would involve a 45-60 minute confidential interview, and questionnaires which will take a total of 30-45 minutes to complete. The total duration of participation in the study (interview + questionnaires) is therefore expected to be between 1 hour and 15 minutes and 1 hour and 45 minutes. You will be reimbursed for your time.

To find out more and take part, click on the link attached to this post.

OR Get in touch with researcher directly

Email: james.dilks@postgrad.manchester.ac.uk

The University of Manchester

This project is in part fulfilment of a postgraduate qualification of James Dilks, Division of Psychology and Mental Health. University of Manchester Ethics Reference: 17286